DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In the Brief Description of the Drawings, there is no description of each figure number. The element numbers for the different elements in the drawing should also be used throughout the Detailed Description when referring to the different elements.

Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because it is difficult to distinguish the different elements in the figures with all of the different lines shown in the figures. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Skinner 4913245 and Jaeger et al. 6582263.

Referring to claims 1-2, Skinner discloses the method and apparatus of using a heat exchanger (31) to cool a drilling fluid. Skinner does not the fluid is cooled by glycol and water or a second heat exchanger suing seawater to cool the glycol and water. Jaeger (Fig. 1) teaches that glycol and water is a known and coolant and using seawater through a heat exchanger (26) to cool a glycol and water mixture (col. 1, lines 6-26). As a glycol water mixture is a well known coolant and it would be advantageous to continuous cool the glycol water mixture in order to continuously recycle the mixture, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the apparatus and method disclosed by Skinner to have a glycol water mixture as the coolant and use seawater going through a second exchanger to cool the glycol water mixture in view of the teachings of Jaeger.
